Poles and Czecho-Slovaks Will Join Allies If Huns Choose War in Preference to Signing Conditions of Peace

By UNITED PRESS.
LONDON, June 18.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen today reported that hostile demonstrations against allied representatives occurred in Frankfurt-on-Main Monday night and Tuesday. Shots were fired at the Hotel Carlton, headquarters of the allied mission, the despatch said. Government troops dispersed the mob with machine gun fire. French army officials threatened to bombard the city if French citizens were molested.

PARIS, June 18.—The Poles and Czechoslovaks will join the allies in throwing the Hun alone out of Europe.

Marshal Foch's plans in the event that the Germans refuse to sign the treaty, provide for rapid contraction of this ring, overrunning Germany and its allies. The Poles would advance from the east, the Czechs and Slovaks from the south and nearly a million French, British, Belgians and Americans from the west while on the north the British fleet would bottle up German's ports and complete her economic helplessness. Of course, he expected pressure would, however, be exerted along the German frontier, from Holland to Switzerland. Opposed to the combined forces of the allies the Germans could muster no more than half a CÖBLENZ, Tuesday, June 17.—The concentration of troops preparatory to their march further into Germany against the German army to sign the terms of peace will begin Wednesday throughout all the occupied areas. Orders to this effect were received by Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies, who sent similar orders to all the allied forces on German soil.

Lieutenant-General Hunter Liggett, commander of American forces in the Coblenz area said the American forces were all ready to move ahead at a moment's notice.

RELEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE (AP) (AP) June 18.—The unmediated peace terms have aroused a sentiment of growing implacability in Germany and armed forces are being mobilized to meet any inevitable, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Politiken.

It is reported that Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the peace negotiator, and Matthias Erzberger, chairman of the armistice commission, have reconciled their differences. The correspondent says that if the war is not the occasion will have an important bearing on the acceptance or non-acceptance of the terms.

Finally Cronk, thoroughly terrified, turned and fled toward the lower water just as Behneemann, hearing his cries for assistance, ran upon the beach. Already there were two other boys who also had been wading in the shallows and who followed Cronk's example by immediately rushing for shore with all possible speed.

Behneemann seized a couple of heavy stones from the beach wall and hurled them at the shark, but the monster before he let drive. The first stone struck the shark pretty well behind the forward fin and apparently took most of the enthutheir bomb outrages are expected by William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, who said today that "the situation was being taken by the police to bring the country to forestall the radicals."

All the recent bomb outrages have been connected, Flynn said, and were inspired by a purely domestic movement, which "virtually" has been identified.

Flynn said he could not say whether the next bomb outrage might be undertaken. Some officials of the Department of Justice, however, expect the next movements by the radicals to be made on Independence Day.

coming," said Flynn. It will take some time to clear the matter up but it will be cleared up."

Investigation has shown, Flynn said, that the two men were carrying bombs to the home of Attorney General Palmer, which was damaged recently, and that the premature explosion resulted from the fact that the presence of two persons on the street delayed the men in placing the infernal machine.

The killing of a human killed by the premature explosion of the bomb has not been completely established, Flynn said. It is known he was in New York two weeks before coming to Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—In a long and powerful speech before the Senate today, Senator McCumber of North Dakota, Republican member of the foreign relations committee, took issue with the resolution of the Senate today that the league covenant offered the only prospect of a promising future and more terrible prospect of a dark future.

He upheld the league as entirely consistent with the American constitution and devoid of any ability to curtail the freedom of individual American interests.

MISS RITA NELSON.

Former Countess Among Girls Who Quit Phone Jobs

In the group of girls who stood outside the entrance to the telephone building when the strike was called by Miss Rita Nelson, one of the superintendents of the long distance service, who was recently, until Judge Dudley Kinsell granted her prayer for annulment of her marriage, the Countess de Chevalley. In spite of the fact that her name was restored by the decree, the girls addressed her as "Countess," and she complained that though she is not a member of the union they would not allow her to go to work.

The marriage of Miss Nelson and the self-styled Count Roebuck de Chevalley, who belonged to the aviation service of the French army, was one of the unusual romances of the war. They met in Oakland, introduced by mutual friends, and in spite of the fact that he was understood to be a count he proved to be so likeable that she consented, after a whirlwind courtship, to marry him. This fact that he was not what he pretended to be never was disclosed until after they had separated on the day of the wedding through the most unusual coincidence.

They had arrived at Los Angeles and she had gone to the Roslyn Hotel while he was about some personal business. Later when he appeared at the hotel and asked for her, the clerk, mistaking her for another woman who was involved in a divorce proceeding, told the count that she had been instructed to refuse him. He was not to be allowed to see her. He immediately left the hotel, thinking it was believed that she had discovered his duplicity, and she has never been heard from him since.

An investigation was ultimately begun with the result that he was found to be an impostor, not a count, but in no way known to the French countess at Washington, connected with the French army. The "Countess" immediately sued for and won a decree of annulment.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing a ugly hollow chest with a healthy and beautiful one, it is evident that thinness and weakness are often due to a deficiency of phosphorus in the blood. Our bodies need phosphorus for the maintenance of health and beauty. The evidence is evident in the case of men and women who have recently felt their excessive thinness and weakness. all of the girls employed there were said to be at work this morning. The delays that were manifest in the Alameda service were attributed to the fact that employees from there had been removed to other Eastbay office buildings yesterday. Union officials claimed at noon that several Alameda employees had been won over to the strike.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The strike of telephone operators and linemen here was unchanged this morning, except that the organization of the men and men appeared stronger than yesterday. Instead of the crowd which surrounded the downtown exchanges and offices of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company yesterday, picketing was being done in an orderly manner by the strikers working in two-hour shifts.

Despite claims by the traffic department that better service was being given than yesterday, repeated calls to the residential district brought no response on any exchange. The downtown district service was a little better than that of Tuesday due to the massing by the company of their loyal night forces of chief operators and superintendents taken from all of the exchanges and placing them on the day shift in the Sutter extension building, where the switch boards for the downtown loops are housed.

An innovation by the strikers operators was introduced here this morning when the groups of pickets at the downtown exchanges were joined by a youth with a camera. A non-union operator hurrying to work would be approached and asked to join the strikers, being surrounded by the pickets. If she refused the circle would open and the non-union operator would attempt to pass through her picture was calmly taken by the youth who had been hovering in the background. The purpose for which these snapshots were to be used the strikers would not say.

Civil Service Board Quorum Is Lacking

What promises to be a lively political fight in the city council when Commissioner W. J. Baucus takes his seat developed today when it was said among council members that a civil service ordinance passed to first reading several months ago and then tabled, will probably be resurrected under the new council organization. This is being done to the recommendation for appointment of city employees out of the hands of the Civil Service Board. A lively fight will be made against it by members of the board, according to political followers about the city hall.

The ordinance was drafted and introduced by Commissioner P. P. Jackson, who resigned July 1, but was held up through objections by Mayor Davis and later by Commissioner Fred Soderberg.

In this ordinance, according to members of the council, the commissioners who desire to appoint new secretaries as a way of doing so without interference from the Civil Service Board, which has announced that it will insist on promotional examinations being held if any commissioner desires a new secretary. Baucus, it is said, has a candidate picked for his secretary, and Commissioner Fred Soderberg also is desirous of choosing his own secretary, according to members of the civil service board at the time their board's policy was announced some weeks ago.

Very few of the so-called man-eating sharks, which almost exclusively belong to the pelagic division of the class, have ever been found near the shore on this side of the continent, though from time to time unverifiable reports that this type of shark had appeared inshore have been heard.

A few years ago a school of sharks, apparently of a dangerous sort, descended upon the Atlantic Coast, and caused some casualties. The school was quickly dispersed, and the amount of alarm that developed at popular Atlantic bathing beaches was pronounced to be out of all yelin to the actual danger which had been incurred.

HUN ENVOYS SEND PROTEST ON "INSULTS"

BERLIN, June 18.—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, has lodged an emphatic protest with the French government against the insults offered the German peace delegation by a French crowd on its departure from Versailles Monday night.

PARIS, June 18.—Two German women peace delegates were today accused of starting the trouble that attended the departure of the German peace delegation from Versailles Monday night. An official inquiry, it was stated, disclosed that as the automobiles carrying the Germans drew away from the Hotel Reservoir, the women expressed their contempt for the crowd of the French men and women by sticking out their tongues and putting their fingers to their noses.

The stoning occurred as the automobiles were approaching the Noire-Ledé station, where a number of missiles descended on the German party, injuring Dr. Mehlhorn, one of the German delegates, and Frau Dornbluth, a secretary.

Premier Clemenceau not only dismissed the prefect of police, Chalet, and the police commissary, Oudaille, but ordered Chalet to make a personal apology to the Germans. The French press today decries the disorders and the necessity of the French having to apologize to the Germans, but approves the dismissal of the officials.

During the demonstration at the station, women with babies in their arms, run along the German automobiles and carriages. One half-hysterical woman ran up to the car containing Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, holding up her baby, shouted at the German foreign minister: "You've killed his father."

Soldiers finally dispersed the crowd.

LONG BRIDGE COMPLETED

It is harmless and never irritates. Advertisement.

Villa Heads for American Mines "Get Out of Mexico," U. S. Warns

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The American expedition into Mexico after Villistas is regarded by the Mexican government as "a closed incident" and there will be no formal protest to its government. It was authoritatively stated. Before this word was received here it had been expected that a formal protest would be filed.

EL PASO, Texas, June 18.—Military and civil authorities here today are taking every precaution to prevent demonstrations of hostility against Americans by warning all American citizens to remain away from Juarez until conditions have again become normal. Feeling in Juarez against the Americans remains high.

American have been warned by the American State Department to "get out when they could," according to a telegram from Congressman Claude R. Huddspeth.

All damage done in Juarez during the recent fighting is charged against the United States troops by the Mexicans, and the Americans are accused of shooting into the homes of the citizens.

Because of the intense feeling the authorities have not permitted the saloons to reopen in Juarez. Armed citizens are patrolling the streets of the town than ever before.

NO WORD RECEIVED OF MORMON COLONY SAFETY.

The telephone lines are down south of Juarez, the railroad is completely wrecked between Juarez and Chihuahua City and wagon roads are dangerous because of Villa's personal southwest of the Mexican town so that nothing can yet be learned of the developments south of the international boundary.

Nothing has been heard from the Mormon colonies in Mexico by the church officials here since Villa appeared outside of Juarez. Bishop A. L. Pierce of the El Paso ward announced today. The bishop said he did not expect Villa to harm the Mormon settlements.

There are approximately 600 Mormons living in Colonia Dublan, Colonia Juarez, Colonia Garcia and the Mormon colonies. Bishop Pierce said. Their holdings were estimated to be valued at $5,000,000 gold.

MINING COMPANIES ARE EXPECTING VILLA ATTACK.

Along the entire line of the border today the American military guard is on the alert to prevent any raid upon American border towns which Villa might attempt. Villa's whereabouts are in doubt today, but he is believed to be moving toward Parral, where there are large American mining interests. It is reported several mining companies are warning their employees to seek safety in anticipation of attacks on their property by Villistas.

The first demonstration against Americans in Juarez since Sunday's battle between Villistas and American troops occurred here when workmen sent across the international bridge to repair street car tracks were assaulted by Mexican civilians. They fled to the river and sought protection from soldiers at the bridge.

Business men of El Paso with civil passports and military passes were denied entrance to Juarez, and a number who succeeded in entering the city were spit upon by Mexican women and stoned by small boys. The Mexican guards at each bridge spanning the river threatened to confiscate American automobiles entering the town.

TWO DEAD, TEN WOUNDED ON U. S. CASUALTY LIST.

One American soldier was killed, another died from wounds and ten were wounded during the fighting Sunday and Monday, according to official reports made to military headquarters. Private Sam Tuseo, 52d artillery, was shot and killed. Private Anthony Cunningham, 24th (colored) infantry, died of wounds received while patrolling the bridge. The wounded included in the casualty report are:

Sergeant Peter Chigas, Troop L, 7th cavalry; Private Burchard F. Casey, headquarters company, 52d field artillery; Private Arthur A. Lindberg, Troop L, Private Alfonso Lopez, Troop M, and Corporal Lewis E. Armstrong, machine gun troop of the 7th cavalry; Corporal Alfred Friedman, Company D, 19th infantry; Corporal Edward C. Reilly, motor transport company 401; Sergeant Roscoe W. Buckles, Company A, 9th engineers, mounted; Private Calvin Love, Company G, and Corporal Earl O. Smith, Company A, of the 24th infantry.

Civilian casualties in El Paso were: Killed, Floyd Hinton, American; Mrs. Edwige Romer; slightly wounded, Anastasio Madrid, Agustino Ochoa, Francisco Aguilar, Emma Parker.

BOLD TAXI MAN GENTLY SLAPPED BY "HELLO GIRL"

The "hello girls" have their war paint on. They demonstrated this in a "face slapping" scene at the telephone exchange at 520 East Fourteenth street, where the switchboard damsels were gathered in large numbers, last night.

A taxi cab driver happened to transport the strikers, disagreed with a "strikerette" on a certain point. In retaliation the operator slapped the taxi driver's face to settle the argument.

For time fear was felt that something more serious might happen. The police were notified. Patrolmen Pete Connolly and McCarthy arrived on the scene, but found everything quiet.

Ship Bearing Brazil Chief Breaks Down

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The engines of the French cruiser Jeanne d'Arc, which President-elect Epitacio Pessoa, of Brazil, and his party are passengers, broke down at 7 o'clock last night, according to a despatch to the Navy Department. The position of the vessel at the time of the mishap was not given. Three hours later Pessoa, the imperator, which is due at New York tomorrow. The French vessel is now being towed to the Azores, the despatch added.

Alleged Member of I. W. W. Is Arrested

Gabriel A. Solntus was arrested at Tenth and Clay streets today by W. B. Brackett, a guard at the Moore shipyards, on a charge of sedition. Solntus is an alleged I. W. W. member. Among his effects were found I. W. W. literature. The police are investigating to ascertain if he has any connection with the Rev. John G. Weller who was arrested on a charge of writing threatening letters and bomb threats to Eastbay residents.

STOCKTON, June 18.—Firing a shot into his wife's head and another into her heart as she fell to the floor, Frank Bishop, a night watchman, then turned and sent a bullet into his own brain this morning when he visited his wife's home. Letters found in the house indicated that the shooting took place at a time that had been set for a conference. The Bishop and summoned the police.

Youth Stunned by Dive Is Drowned

LONG BEACH, June 18.—Basil Schmidt, aged 19, of Florence, dived from the Campbell pier today and, partially stunned, drowned before guards could reach him. Complaints have been received by County Horticultural Commissioner and State Quarantine Guardian Fred Seuberg to the effect that deception and fraud are being practiced upon the public along East Fourteenth street, from Stanley road to Hayward and also along the Boulevard by automobile cherry sellers, who stop passersby on the highway and sell them what appears to be a box of high grade cherries, but which in fact, the buyers say, contains only a cap layer of good fruit.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered a nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss Flo Kelly, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

Miss Corder Is Bride at Pretty Home Wedding

Pink Delico dahlias, Delphinium and greens were artistically arranged before an improvised altar last evening at the wedding of Miss Amy Corder and Mark Edward Gaines of San Francisco, the ceremony being performed at 8 o'clock at the bride's home on Oak street, by Rev. Howard Kerr, pastor of the Brooklyn Presbyterian church of this city. Witnesses to the ceremony were immediate relatives and a few close friends. The bridal gown was a lovely design of white tulle and Brussels lace. It was made dancing length with veil draped to the hem of the gown and arranged at the collar with orange blossoms. The shower bouquet was of white butterfly orchids and tulle ribbon streamers.

The two little flower maidens, nieces of the bride, were Florence and Helen Corder, both gowned in white voile frocks and lace. There were two attendants upon the bride, Miss Hortense Metcalfe and Miss May Black, gowned similarly in pale blue satin and georgette. They carried arm sprays of pink rosebuds.

Following the informal reception and supper Mr. and Mrs. Gaines left for a honeymoon after which they will make their home across the bay.

GUESTS AT FEATHER RIVER INN.

WEDDING HELD IN PIEDMONT.

A quiet ceremony last Sunday morning united in marriage Miss Helen A. Osborne of Piedmont and Walter I. Osborne of San Francisco. The only attendant upon the bride was Miss Edith M. Fawcett. Albert C. Warren was best man, and Rev. William Keeney Townner officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne are now on their wedding trip, motoring through the southern part of the state. When they return they will make their home in San Francisco. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. W. L. James of this city.

Osborne was formerly in the army and held a commission as lieutenant. A program of interest was given at the studio of Mrs. May Denke, 5451 Bold avenue, Sunday, afternoon. The children were presented in need of new dresses and shoes.

The participants were Alice Hart, Geoffrey Gunge, Marie Nylo, Margaret Thomas, Arthur Hart, Marie Failing, Kathryn Smith, Dyla Denke, and the Failing family.

Master Frank Denke, pianist, assisted in the program.

Formal announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Barbara Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Rosenberg of Alameda, and Charles A. Rausher of Los Angeles. The young couple have motored south for their honeymoon, and will make their permanent residence in the southern city.

TO MOTOR NORTH FOR MONTH. Many Eastern homes are being closed for the season, their chaperones leaving for the lakes or other resorts. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ransom will leave for the Feather River country and Lassen county in their motor.

They are to be accompanied by Mrs. Ransom's sister, Mrs. Edward Bull Pringle, who is coming from Santa Barbara, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hoffman, who will complete the party. They will be away for a month.

Mrs. George Wheaton plans to go to Castella. Miss Ida Bell Wheaton, however, will not accompany her mother, but will visit friends in the southern part of the state.

When Governor Buried. TACOMA, Wash., June 18.—The remains of Governor Ernest Lister are at rest today in the family plot, Tacoma cemetery, close to the grave of his father, following a funeral which city has never before seen. Following impromptu church services, six companies of the Third Washington national guard led the cortege, diverting traffic from the line of march and clearing the way for over 2000 automobiles that followed.

Services at the cemetery blended the military ceremony with the Masonic ritual.

News of the Churches

BAPTIST MINISTERS' REPORT.

The Baptist ministers of the bay district held their last regular meeting before the summer vacation last Monday at the Y. M. C. A., and adjourned to meet the first Monday in September, when an outdoor meeting will be combined with a union picnic in which the ministers' wives will be invited to participate.

The meeting was largely devoted to reports of the Denver convention. Dr. Phillips reproduced the convention with such spirit that there was a general desire to have his report repeated in the Baptist pulpits of this district and such arrangements will probably be made.

DIVINE SCIENCE.

Since her return from Denver, Miss Ida D. Elliott, minister of Divine Science at Starr King hall, has been giving a series of Sunday morning talks on the larger aspects of spiritual things, which have proved a source of uplift to her hearers.

Last Sunday morning the subject for the service was "Commanding Faith," a phrase suggested by Isaiah 45:1: "concerning the works of my hands I command you, ye mountains, to be fruitful, ye hills, to bring forth." "Whosoever shall say unto this mountain, 'Be thou moved,' and shall not doubt in his heart, he shall have whatsoever he saith," "Faith," says the eleventh of Hebrews, "is a basis of things hoped for."

"We should go back again and again," said Miss Elliott, "to this bedrock of Being, as Jesus did when he said of him, 'Who is this that commandeth the winds, and the waves obey?'"

The steps to be taken in the use of this commanding faith were outlined by Jesus in the eleventh chapter of Mark. His entrance into Jerusalem symbolizes the enthronement of the King in our hearts—giving moving every conception that hinders faith's commanding power. The next is the withering of the barren fig tree, which stands for the uprooting of every barren tendency in ourselves—every faculty that does not bear fruit. Then we are to have the faith of God and believe that we have received. And last, we must forgive, that is, give up anything which hinders between us and any other child of God.

"This commanding faith has been demonstrated not only in the lives of the Bible characters, but in many of the present day, such as Dr. Cullis, George Muller (whose home that we phans, maintained by simple faith has inspired confidence in God), and many humble lives of every creed and church. By these we know that our faith, too, may have dominion."

County Child Welfare Council Is Formed

Growing out of the work of the County Children's Year Committee of April, 1918, a county child welfare council has been formed, with Mrs. Edna Watson Bailey of Berkeley as chairman, Mrs. Charles Frothing as treasurer and Mrs. Guy Bailey of Oakland as secretary. All the child welfare organizations of the county will co-operate with this council, and the council affiliates with the Public Health Center of Alameda county. Mrs. Edna Watson Bailey being its representative on the board of governors of the health center.

The work of the County Child Welfare Council will be of two kinds: First, child weighing and measuring centers, often called in other cities well baby clinics; and, second, educational lectures and exhibits.

The first of these child welfare centers is the one at Plymouth Center, Yosemite and Piedmont avenues, Oakland, which is open every Tuesday from 1 to 2 p. m. with doctor and nurses in attendance to measure and weigh children under six years of age, and to advise with the mothers as to proper food and care for their little ones. Many mothers have already taken advantage of this opportunity and have been greatly helped in a practical way. Other women interested in this helpful health movement also attend, one of the most noticeable being Miss May Ye, a Chinese, who is studying at the university. Her brother-in-law, Professor W. S. Lo, is now in China, and has urged his sister to learn all she can of the care of babies and little children in these centers, so they may be of service in their own country to the children. This is modern practical missionary work.

ANNUAL FLAG DAY PICNIC IS HELD.

The annual flag day picnic of the Oakland Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held this year at Trestle Glen. About forty members and guests attended. After the salute to the flag, luncheon was enjoyed, the tables being decked in flags and red, white and blue flowers. A "Tribute to the Flag" was read, and other appropriate poems read, and with jokes and songs, one of the happiest of days was spent.

As the Daughters of the American Revolution stand for patriotism, love and loyalty of country and flag the Oakland chapter has always observed flag day, and is one of the first organizations in Alameda county to do so.

It is gratifying to them to see this day become more universally recognized as one of the big days of our country.

HOME SERVICE WORKERS TO ATTEND COLLEGE.

Practical field work will be supplied by the division department of civilian offices with division representative directing. Home Service Institute certificates will be given those taking the lectures and field work as outlined. Applications for admission may be made to the Civilian Relief Department, Flood Building, San Francisco.

OAKLAND AD MEN LAUD PORTLAND

Delegates from the advertising club of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce who have returned from Portland, Ore., where they attended the convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association, express themselves as highly pleased with the reception they were accorded in that city.

Concerning the showing made at the convention by the Oakland advertisers, the Portland Journal says: "The most conspicuous delegation to the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association, it proved, came from Oakland. Oakland won nearly enough of the trophy cups to stock a jewelry store, including the grand sweepstakes prize offered by Seattle, and to be held for one year only. Oakland furnished music and freak stunts under the leadership of Cummings and Hargrave. To cap the climax, Oakland entertained at a most delightful dinner Thursday evening at the Benson hotel."

Hibernians to Hold Athletic Carnival

CALL STRIKE AS PROTEST FOR ARRESTS

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., June 18.—The New Westminster general strike committee today issued a call for a general strike in protest of the arrest of Winnipeg strike leaders.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 18.—The 30,000 Canadian Railway shopmen will not strike today as scheduled. They say a representative of the shopmen's organization is at Atlantic City conferring with American labor leaders. The walkout was postponed pending outcome of this conference.

WINNIPEG, June 18.—Sam Blumberg, prominent Winnipeg socialist, was taken into custody today when he entered the office of Chris Newton, acting chief of police. This makes eleven men connected with the Winnipeg strike who have been arrested on charges of having made seditious utterances.

Despatches from Calgary indicate that a nation wide strike as a protest against the arrest of the Winnipeg men. Calgary is the organization center of the One-big-union movement.

Car service was partially resumed today.

AUTO DODGES MAN, RUNS INTO REALTY OFFICE

Real estate prices took an upward spurt early today at the office of Levi J. Grant, 9904 East Fourteenth street, when Louis E. Bullington, 5511 Dorset street, ran his automobile into the place, demolishing the front of the office and scattering things about generally. The reason Bullington so strenuously "batted" the market was because he was trying to avoid killing a pedestrian, Joe Brags, who was walking across the street. He says that Brags succeeded in jumping in front of the machine regardless of the fact that he looped the loop and did a spiral turn around the street, and the only thing left to do was to take to the real estate office. As it was, Brags got somewhat jumbled up and was taken to the Receiving hospital for repairs to his head and hands and feet. The injuries are numerous, but not very serious.

The delegates who attended grand parlor session are Gertrude Morrison, Halston, Little Emerson and Gertrude Morden.

NEW WITNESS APPEARS IN AGNEW PROBE

AGNEW, June 18.—The special board of inquiry organized to investigate charges involving the administration of the Agnew state hospital began its fourth day this morning prepared to go into a "second casualty list" presented by Rose Ann Marcus of Alameda county.

Rose Ann Marcus has not been identified as yet but presented an affidavit to the board in which she alleged three additional murders by hospital attendants.

The "first casualty list" contains six names of patients whom Dr. Frederick F. Webster of Oakland declares were "killed through brutality of attendants at the hospital in which they were 'backed up' by Dr. Leonard Stocking, the medical superintendent, and his chief assistant, Dr. E. W. Mullin."

"Mrs. Burns" was beaten to death, Mrs. Marcus declares, a "Portuguese woman" died because of abuse and "Lillian Hayes" was knocked down and walked on by several nurses and died of her injuries. In addition to these charges Rose Ann Marcus names a long list of patients whom she says were treated brutally by attendants; others were incarcerated by designing relatives and others are sane and are being detained illegally.

ENTERTAINING WITNESS.

William Fenton, an escaped patient, who returned to testify in the inquiry after he had read accounts in the newspapers, proved a very entertaining witness. Fenton says "angels" and hears "voices" and admits having had financial transactions with J. P. Morgan. He admitted that he could not hear much, but nothing escapes his eye, he boasted. The witness used an ear trumpet which proved a poor conductor of sound, so he was not interrupted once he observed the floor and got fairly startled. He gesticulated earnestly and fiercely. He shouted with wild oratorical effect and he laid down on the floor to show how he was compelled to build up the attendants. He would not give him sufficient water. Dr. Leonard Stocking, the medical superintendent, read from the record to show that Fenton had fixed delusions. He claimed to inherit $6,000,000 and to have poetic genius. Finally he ran away.

Six witnesses testified at the hearing today in regard to the excellent and kindly treatment accorded all patients and visitors at the hospital by Dr. Stocking, Dr. E. W. Mullin and the various attendants. These witnesses were the Rev. Father A. V. Raggio, Santa Clara; M. J. Fairfield, Palo Alto, and brother of Ollie Fairfield, one of the six men whom Dr. Webster declares were murdered in the hospital; Mrs. J. Turner, mother of one of the patients in the hospital; Charles Stanley, a patient discharged as cured after undergoing treatment for alcoholism and Mrs. J. Peterson, mother of Ed Stolz, a patient.

PRIEST PRAISES SYSTEM.

The Rev. Father Raggio stated that he had been closely associated with the hospital for 25 years and that during all of that time kindly restraint seemed to be the guiding principle. He spoke five languages and prior to the earthquake even had keys to the institution. He was acquainted with the work in the institution under five superintendents and especially praised the present method of conducting the institution.

Mrs. Peterson testified that everybody was nice to her son at the Agnew hospital, and that if anything, he had not worked hard enough and "got too fat."

Bathing Suits to Donate? Children To Frolic in 'Em

Sixty-six little children from the West Oakland Home are going on a two-weeks' holiday down to Moss Beach. Some of them have never seen the ocean, but they do know it is a good place to swim in.

They leave on Saturday morning in fifteen automobiles, contributed by local firms and arranged for by The TRIBUNE.

Everything is ready, but there is a scarcity of bathing suits—sizes from 2½ years to 14. Who will supply one, just one? Telephone Mrs. Emil Fritsch, Lakeside 3685. And who is it who wants to furnish three small tents? Even a loan would be appreciated by the management of the Home, for this first great seaside party that will last for two happy weeks.

NEPHEW OF BOMB VICTIM TAUNTS STRIKERS, CLAIM

ALAMEDA, June 18.—Robert Lamborn, 19-year-old University of California student, is under arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace, following his alleged actions in riding up and down Central avenue and taunting the telephone strike pickets outside the telephone exchange building.

Lamborn is the son of former City Clerk Ben F. Lamborn and is a nephew of the late Harvey Lamborn, killed in the Preparedness day bombing in San Francisco.

Young Lamborn is said to have asked the pickets why they did not hoist the red flag and shouted "It was strikers like you who murdered my uncle on Preparedness day." When Police Officer William Fries in citizens' clothes undertook to order young Lamborn to stop his car and submit to arrest, the boy is said to have kept the car going till the officer struck him back of the ear. He will appear in court tomorrow.

IRISH GET GERMAN ORDERS

DUBLIN, June 18.—Some Irish woolen mills already have received applications from former customers in Germany to supply them with cloth as soon as possible.

Policeman Is Struck With His Own Club

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Policeman John A. Miske was taken to the Central Emergency hospital early this morning when he was struck on the head with his own club by Raymond Murphy of Goat Island, whom he placed under arrest at Fifth and Mission streets for disturbing the peace. Murphy resisted arrest and Miske handcuffed one of his hands, holding the other in his own palm and was walking toward a patrol box.

Suddenly Miske's arms were pinioned to his sides by a friend of Murphy's also in uniform. Seizing this opportunity the prisoner took Miske's club from his sheath, and struck him on the head, falling him to the ground. The two sailors then separated, Murphy being later arrested at Sixth and Mission by Policeman John Rollins, and was booked on a charge of assault with deadly weapon.

BOY SCOUTS WILL HOLD RELAY RACES

Berkeley Scouts will hold their first annual relay carnival on the University of California Oval Saturday morning beginning at 9:30 o'clock. Indications point to a long list of entries. There will be two divisions, the limited which will include all boys weighing under a hundred pounds, and the unlimited with all over that weight. The list of events will include a half mile four-scout relay, a mile eight-scout relay, a special four-scout relay for the new troops, including 5, 12, 15, 17, 19, 20 and 21. The special events will include 50-yard dash, high jump, broad jump and scout's pace.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning relay team. The officials of the meet will be Walter Christie, referee and starter; Randolph Van Nostrand, clerk of the course; judges, Robert G. Sproul, Lester W. Hink, E. F. Louideck, Walter Smith, Roy Woolsey and others. It is planned to make this classic an annual event for Berkeley scouts and add to the events from year to year. All entries must be made at headquarters, where the heats will be made up and arranged. The public will be welcome, no admission being charged.

There is considerable interest in the meet displayed by the scouts of all troops. Inasmuch as this is the first athletic event of the scouts, little real dope is available, but it is expected that some of the troops will hang up some good records.

Real Concession, Says Paris Press

PARIS, June 18.—A sharp division of opinion was found in the comment on the re-drafted treaty by Parisian newspapers.

"Still delays show the Big Four incapable of settling even the insignificant details on a basis of pure right," declared the Matin. "We hope the Germans will not sign it. It will enable us to dig to Essen what the Boches did to Rheims."

"The reply does not weaken France's fundamental demands," said the Petit Journal.

The Journal said: "The language of the reply is strong, but the terms contain real concessions."

The Echo de Paris: "Clemenceau's letter covering the treaty is the strongest indictment of Germany. It contrasts strikingly with the weakness shown by the negotiations by the Big Four."

Why Actresses Never Grow Old

Nothing concerning the profession seems more puzzling to the dear old public than the perpetual youth of our feminine members. How often we hear remarks like, "Why, I saw her as Juliet 10 years ago and she doesn't look a year older now!" Of course, allowance is made for make-up, but when the actress is alone, and in the morning wash it off! We know how this gradually, imperceptibly, absorbs old nature, leaving the complexion new and fresh, free from fine lines, sallowness or over-redness. We know, too, that this marvellous was the reason actresses don't wear freckles, moth patches, liver spots, pimples and the like. Why don't our sisters on the other side of the footlights learn the reason, and profit by it?—The Theatrical World.—Advertisement.

Cut This Out and Take It With You. A man often forgets the exact name of the article he wishes to purchase, and as a last resort takes something else instead. You will find nothing quite so satisfactory for constipation and indigestion. For sale by Good Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

5 SCHOOLS WILL GRADUATE 356

Three hundred and fifty-six students will be graduated from Oakland's five high schools at the end of this week, according to the figures of the Board of Education. Graduation exercises details are now being arranged. Fremont and Technical high schools plan exercises in the school buildings, while Oakland high school, the Vocational high school and the University high school plan ceremonies in the Municipal Auditorium.

This year's graduation marks the fifteenth year of the Oakland high school, the first high school in the city, now in a central downtown district which has grown about it during the years at Twelfth and Grove streets. Anniversary exercises will be held later in the year, according to Principal Charles Keyes, so as not to conflict with the graduation. Many noted Californians are old-time graduates of the school and plans for a reunion and anniversary, probably in November or December, are under way.

Oakland high school will hold its commencement at the Auditorium Theater next Friday night. Mabel Starr and Kenneth Gardner, honor students of the senior class, will be the speakers.

The lists of graduates are now being compiled by the school board.

$10,000 BAIL IS FORFEITED

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS

MERCHANT SUES ADOPTED SON

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Conrad H. Johnson, head of a national illicit drug ring, according to federal authorities, failed to appear in the federal district court yesterday when Judge F. H. Rudkin called his case for trial. He was free on $10,000 bail which was declared forfeited. A bench warrant was issued for him to be arrested.

Johnson was specifically on trial for having $10,000 worth of drugs in his possession when he was arrested in San Jose's Chinatown two months ago. He and alleged accomplice, Samuel Miller, were to have been tried yesterday, but Johnson did not appear although Miller was in the courtroom.

Federal agents took a trunk check and key from him on his arrest and when the trunk was claimed and opened at the Southern Pacific baggage rooms it was found to contain $10,000 in drugs. Cryptic telegrams from many cities were found on him which are said to be from confederates in a national ring of drug traffickers.

ASKS $10,000 FOR WIFE'S STOLEN LOVE

After he had taken Frank T. Ritchie into his home as a lodger and raised him to manhood, Henry A. Geiffuss, a Mission merchant, now claims that the youth has stolen his wife's affections and demanded $10,000 damages, before Justice of the Peace A. T. Barnett yesterday. He waived $700 of his claim, however, in order to keep the matter within the jurisdiction of the justice court. Ritchie started the proceedings by suing Geiffuss for $250 which he claims to have loaned Geiffuss at various times before he entered the service in 1918. After hearing the testimony, Justice Barnett took the case under advisement to learn whether love damages can offset loan money. Geiffuss introduced a letter alleged to be written by Ritchie to Mrs. Geiffuss, in which he makes allusions to their being happy together after he returns. Mrs. Rose Fleming, a nurse who attended Mrs. Geiffuss, testified that Mrs. Geiffuss had plenty of kisses for Ritchie when he returned from his day's work, but never any for her husband.

ASSAULT CHARGES AGAINST FOUR DROPPED.

Charges of assault were dismissed yesterday by Police Judge Fitzpatrick against Thomas Green, Alysius Minahan, David Coughlin, Lawrence Condon and Jeremiah Driscoll. All were arrested on the night of May 26 when Policeman John Kelly had shot to death James Kendrick, a soldier who returned with the 368th Regiment from France. Kelly claimed that they were making a disturbance in a Cortland avenue cafe just outside of which the shooting occurred.

BOARDING HOUSE DAMAGED BY FIRE.

A score or more rooms in the Tenopah boarding house at 731 Howard street were damaged by fire which started in a vacant lot at the rear of the building yesterday afternoon. The house is a two-story structure with 150 rooms. Daniel J. O'Leary, an examiner in the office of the United States appraiser, is manager of the place.

SWINE BREEDERS' OFFICIAL INDICTED.

D. H. Riker, former president of the Associated Swine Breeders, who is under arrest in Kansas City, was indicted here yesterday by the Federal grand jury charging him with fraudulent use of the mails. Riker left here three months ago when a warrant was issued for his arrest charging him with destroying the books of his corporation. Indictments charging violations of federal drug laws were returned by the federal grand jury yesterday against Louis M. Frank, Frank G. Galtz and Chan Yip.

IMPROPER RELATIONS WITH SPIRITS ALLEGED.

Ellis C. Van Tine, a foreman in the Bethlehem shipbuilding company plant in Alameda, is charged with having improper relations with the spirit world in the divorce action brought by his wife, Nadine, of 3423 Twentieth street. The complaint names a spirit girl, "Hope" who floats in the air on a steel guitar.

The complaint also alleges that she was awakened one night by the sound of shots and that her husband was sitting up in bed beside her, with his six-shooter aimed at the ceiling. She says he was shooting at "spirit lights." Yesterday Van Tine filed a cross complaint alleging that Maurice Jordan, salesman for the Pacific Coast Paper Company, had sent his wife essays on love and amorous poems.

In Berlin he conducted an investigation of food, manufacturing and political conditions that gave the Americans their first accurate information of conditions in the enemy capital.

Three days later he was joined by Lincoln Fyre, a New York newspaperman and Lynn S. Cobb, who came in automobiles. The three correspondents were in Berlin studying conditions until they were ordered out by General von Hindenburg.

STORAGE STOCKS OF BUTTER AND EGGS INCREASE

Cold storage holdings of both butter and eggs are considerably larger than last year, according to advices received here by commission merchants. With fifty-six houses reporting, egg holdings were placed at 3,285,000 cases, or 310,000 more than last year's figure of 2,975,000.

Butter holdings in the same houses were given as 10,933,000 pounds, showing a gain of 9,859,000 pounds over last year's figure of 7,004,000. The butter holdings at this time are very unusual, it is said, more than twice as large as a year ago.

Government estimates on the total June 1 holdings indicate a surplus of 531,000 cases of eggs and 16,000,000 pounds of butter over the stocks of a year ago.

Ruins of Burned Town May Contain Fortune

CHICO, June 18.—All the burned district of La Porte, old-time mining town, which was practically destroyed by fire last Friday, will be sold for gold by the owners of the property destroyed. Immediately behind the town is the richest part of the Sawpit-La Porte diggings, which in the early days produced $16,000,000 in gold.

Germany May Use Third of Her Ships

PARIS, June 18.—Among the concessions contemplated for Germany in case she signs the peace treaty, it was learned today, is the use of 30 per cent of her merchant ships for two years. Other concessions would be permission for her to dispose of her gold reserve and to purchase the minute ores necessary for smelting her own iron ores.

AUNT ELSIE'S LETTERS TO HER KIDDIES

MY! but I guess this page is PROUD today to be carrying the first column of YOUR letters! Wouldn't wonder it is making sniffs pages all the other pages! And SUCH a time as I have had with your stories ever since they knew they were going to be printed. WIGGLE! WIGGLE! PUSH AND HOLD! I have had to sit right down on top of them to keep them still. But now at last they can come out one by one. IF they behave themselves, here comes the first little WIGGLE from

ELDONOR HANNA, 10 years.
3564 Richmond Blvd., Oakland.
How the Fawn Saved a Kingdom.
Long ago there was a King who ruled over Castle Crag. He had two sons—Prince Hal and Prince Charles. Now these Princes were very kind but the King was mean to his people and selfish and did not want Prince Hal to be King. As he wanted to see if Prince Hal had the right to be King, he told him that if he did not bring fire and smoke from the Dragon on Mt. Black Mountain he would be killed. So the poor Prince, knowing that that was not possible, went away sadly, wondering how he could save his life for the King's command must be obeyed. He started, and as he was going through a wood he saw a little fawn. It hid its head and there was a sharp stone in it. Prince Hal took it out and the fawn licked his face and said, "Where are you going, Prince Hal?"

"I am going to get fire and smoke from the Dragon," said the Prince. "Then go no farther. We will track the wicked King. I will get a can to put the fire and smoke in, and you can cut down a fir tree and burn it and we will can the smoke and fire."

Prince Hal thought a moment and remembered that if the fawn was tapped on the forehead she would be freed. So when she came back he tapped her on the forehead and there came a beautiful fire. "I have been longing for this to happen," she said. So the Prince and Princess returned to the King's palace, and showed the King and Queen the fire and smoke. When the King saw it he turned red, black and purple and died. Prince Hal married the Princess and they lived happily ever after.

Goodbye! But I'm glad they fixed that mean old King, aren't you? And I'm sure if I were enchanted I'd rather be a dear little fawn than anything else wouldn't you? That lovely story, Eleanor, and I guess you must be related to the fawn, to be able to tell it.

FLORENCE EMANUEL, 10 yrs.
814 Arlington Avenue, Oakland.
Dear Aunt Elsie: I read your page in THE TRIBUNE, and I think it is very nice. First read the funny story, then your letter to the fourth grade, and I like to go to school very much. Your friend, FLORENCE EMANUEL.

I'm PROUD to have for the first time a little girl who likes to go to school. I think that was a dear little letter, and I hope Florence writes often.

RUTH HOLMES.
2346 Ravenscourt Blvd., Oakland.
Dear Aunt Elsie: We have seven chickens—three bantams. One is white, one brown, one very tiny, one has a black face in his tail. And we have five Rhode Island Reds. I got four Es on my report card. Yours lovingly, RUTH HOLMES.

That's just like owning a fairy land, Ruth dear. The bantams are the elves and fairies; I wouldn't be surprised if that white one was an enchanted princess. And the big Reds are the Kings and Queens and Guards. Of what fun you must have with them. And YOU'RE a fairy Queen to get those four Es. Here are FOUR BIG HUGS for a reward!

MAE MEAD, 12 years.
Dear Aunt Elsie: We have such fun outdoors these hot days. There term, as ever since I had the next two rows of children, an even number in each row, and each row has a basket ball. One from each row gets the ball in. If you get it in you give the ball to the one in back of you, and then go to the end of the line. We try to see which row will get through first. Your new friend, MAE MEAD.

Mae didn't write her address, so I couldn't answer her personally, and I hope she sees this. She wrote a lovely long, pretty letter, and I like this part the VERY BEST, because I am proud of my kiddies when they like outdoor fun. That's the best kind of fun and I just love my little basketball, Mae.

ADELLA MAYNARD, 8 years.
1629 Ninth Avenue.

Dear Aunt Elsie: I like your stories very much. I am in the low third at Franklin school, and my teacher's name is Miss Antbery. I wish you will like my letter.

A LETTER-PLAY

BY RICHARD WIGHTMAN

The Millikens

To J. O. B.

HOMELAND

Henry Milliken, who journeys daily from this burg to the Wall Street district, is 53 and edging onto corpulence. He has recently married what they call here a "youngish woman." Henry ambled through a fairly adventurous bachelorhood calmly enough, but since his marriage he appears nervous and apprehensive. I wonder what he's apprehensive of—himself or her?

Mrs. Milliken is one of these ardent and faithful devotees of beauty. In fact I guess she works at it. It is her occupation, as it were. She is the secretary and treasurer of the local branch of the Society for the Preservation of Good Looks.

Henry says she bends over the wash-bowl every night, puts her hands under the tap, and splashes cold water on her face to "make her cheeks firm." Henry says her cheek is already firm enough to suit him, especially in Easter-bonnet season, but he doesn't mind the nightly splashing if only she wouldn't baptize his safety-razor outfit and spatter his talcum till it behaves like plaster.

It seems that she asked Henry if he didn't want her to teach him some exercise that would help him get rid of his triple chin, and he told her no, he'd "finished his education when he left Harvard." And "one chin more or less didn't make any difference with his business." But in spite of that she did get Henry to swivel his head to the left 25 times, and then swivel it round to the right 25 times just as far as he could get it; and twice 25 swivels makes 50 swivels for Henry, which he said would be about all, chin or no chin, for after he got through he was too cross-eyed to read the market reports right and lost $500 buying the wrong stock.

The other day Mrs. M. made Henry stop his car in front of the drugstore and she went in and was gone about half an hour, leaving Henry out there in the car with the mosquitoes. When she came out Henry asked, "what the devil you been doing in there all that while?" and she said she'd been getting three ounces of powdered alum. Of course he wanted to know what the alum was for, and she had to tell him it was an astringent to take the puckers out of the skin on her neck. And he was so mad he said, "It was puckered some when I married you, wasn't it? I've never complained, have I? What are you trying to do anyway—please me and hold my affection? or trap one of those lounge lizards at the Madison Square Hotel? Three ounces of powdered alum! I'd like to put a point of T. N. T. under your vanity and set it off and watch the explosion!"

Living right here near the Millikens as I do, and knowing more or less of what's going on in their domestic precinct, do you wonder, Jim, that I'm a bachelor like Henry used to be, and in no present danger? Though you never can tell what will happen to these bachelors most any minute.

your letter. It is sitting right down in the middle of Aunt Elsie's heart, giggling—so you see we are friends forever.

ROSALIE LOUBENE, 13 years.
Los Gatos, Cal.

Dear Aunt Elsie: I think it is perfectly lovely of you to have this splendid magazine for us every Sunday. I am not going to school this year, as ever since I had the influenza I have had a bad cough, and we left Berkeley to try and cure it. I am pretty lonesome, as my sister is at school all day. When she is at home we give lots of love to each other. We also take our supper up in the mountains and cook it over a fire. I spend my time in helping mama, in reading and writing letters. I would like to be a writer, and live there until I was 8. With best wishes, ROSALIE LOUBENE.

That was one of the SWEETEST letters I ever received, for the first thing that dropped out when I opened it was a lovely spray of wild roses. So Rosalie is our wild rose girl.

Oh how glad we are that she belongs to us. I am sure the roses are coming back to her cheeks fast down in Los Gatos, and I think it would be DEAR if she could give me a bunch. Here is the cunningest we had box that you can make all by yourself, and JUST SHOW that smart old brother of yours that he isn't the only carpenter in the world. Take a wooden box or a cardboard one, about 15 inches high and 18 inches wide both ways. Get from the wallpaper man a few yards of your favorite paper—some of his scraps will do. A paper brightly figured with roses and birds is lovely or a dainty striped one. Cover your box both inside and out with sheets of this paper, firmly pasted on. Now sew two strips of half yard colored muslin together. If the muslin is less than 36 inches wide you will need a little more, because of the hem and ribbon drawstring. Smoothly around the top edge with bright tacks or glue it if the box is of paper. And there you are, your little bonnet box. Next time the boys will have something to do, and then they can crow over you. Only if you get to squabbling too hard I'll scoop you both off this page!

COVER

Here's a story that came back from France with the 143d; and it's on Colonel Ralph J. Fancut of Oakland.

It was while the regiment was in training in France that Alice Suzanne Fleury, niece of the late Ferdinand De Lessers, builder of the Suez canal, entertained the officers, and during the talk moving pictures came up—and Mary Pickford, who is as well known in France as here.

That was the Colonel's cue. He produced pictures of the fair movie queen, taken when his outfit was at Camp Kearny; pictures showing the fair Mary presenting him with a wrist watch; the famous picture of himself kissing the fair Mary; and so forth.

"Oooh! I see," exclaimed the fair hostess. "Monsieur Le Colonel, he is a moving picture colonel,—oui?"

And, while the other officers grinned, the colonel was very, very, very.

THE BIGGER PLAN

Sell looms large in the life we plan, but what do we do for our fellowman? What do we plant and what do we sow? For the joy of those we may never know? How many smiles we may never see? In a kindly way have we caused to be? Our home is glad and our life is fair. We have bravely stood to our days of care. But what have we done in a larger way? For the flag and the land that are ours today?

We have life to spend, we have days and hours. And the right to buy what we choose is ours. We may toil for gold or may toil for fame, May win whatever we wish to claim; Grow great in honor and truly own. The joys we have sought for ourselves alone. But we still have lived by a selfish plan. If we haven't thought of our fellowman, And never have turned, in his hour of need, To brighten his life by a kindly deed.

There may be no stain on the joys we know. On the things we treasure no shame may show. We may walk heads high, with our records true. And take great pride in the deeds we do. But we haven't lived to a noble plan. If we've had no thought for our fellowman, If into the dream we have cherished long There has been no gleam of a righted wrong. So thought of a larger world to come. When our hands are still and our lips are dumb. We must spend our lives for the ones we love. But we still must cherish the flag above. We may work for joys that our own may know. And follow our dreams as we come and go. And none may ensure the choice we make. Or the deeds we do for our loved ones' sake. But we shall be judged, when our souls have flown, By more than the way that we served our own. For we shall have lived to a selfish plan. If we've had no thought for our fellowman.

Read the Story!

Out in the yard, behind the hollow stump bungalow, Nurse Jane Puffy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, heard, one morning, a Chugchy-ump! Chugchy-ump! Chugchy-ump!

"Dear me!" said Nurse Jane to herself. "I wonder what Uncle Wiggily can be doing? That sounds as if he were pumping a pail of water from the well. But I am not going to wash the clothes today. I must see what he is doing." Chugchy-ump! Chugchy-ump! Chugchy-ump!

"Uncle Wiggily, are you pumping water?" asked Nurse Jane. "No," answered the rabbit gentleman. "I am pumping air in one of my sausage links. I had the pump out in the night, and I can't ride on a flat tire. Do you want to go for a ride, Nurse Jane?"

"Well, I might," said the muskrat lady slowly. "I have the bungalow work all done, and if you will be sure to get me back in time for supper I'll go along." "Oh, well, I'll be back in time for supper," said Uncle Wiggily, as he finished pumping air in the big sausage link. "In fact, I'm on my way for a little ride over the fields and through the woods to look for an adventure."

"Well, I have to say I hope we don't meet that bad Bazooka!" said Nurse Jane. And Uncle Wiggily wished of fun going to the pump. "Pretty soon Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane were riding along along together in the auto, through the cool green woods. All of a sudden, as they passed by a little spring of water, the cat's cradle to tinkle the canary bird. I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Peetie's stick."

"I will," exclaimed the rabbit gentleman, as he stopped his sausage link and hopped out he said: "I only hope it isn't the bad Bazooka who wants us to help him. And it was not. I am glad to say. For when Uncle Wiggily reached the spring he saw, lying about in it, a big yellow bumble bee.

"Help me out!" begged the bee. "I'm all right," said Uncle Wiggily. He reached the end of his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch down into the spring of water, the bee caught hold of it with his legs and the rabbit gentleman pulled him out. "How did you fall in?" asked Mr. Longears. "He let the best suit on the warm radiator of the auto to dry his wings."

"I was gathering honey from a flower," spoke the bee, "when a puff of wind blew me into the spring. Thank you very much for helping me out."

"Pray do not mention it," answered Uncle Wiggily, shy like and unpretentious.

Then Mr. Longears started his machine again, and taking the bee with him, Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane rode on through the woods. They had not gone very much farther before, all of a sudden, there was a rustling in the bushes, and the muskrat lady, turning sort of pale around her eyes, said: "Oh, maybe that's the Bazooka!"

REVELATIONS of a WIFE

ADELE GARRISON.

Let me see that paper, again, Madge."

Lillian's tone was infinitely gentle and tender, yet there was a note in it which effectually roused me from this stupor of grief in which I had lost myself after reading the last of the series of anonymous clippings sent to me and put her warm hand over my cold one in a firm, loving clasp. The touch of her hand steadied me, enabled me to face the terror before me with a semblance of calmness.

"Of course she's no clever to use a pen or a typewriter," Lillian muttered after scanning the letters which had been cut from a newspaper and pasted on a sheet of paper. "It's Journal type, but the letters mean anything. And this paper," she held out the sheet looking at its cheap texture critically, "is the commonest sort of table paper, but it had in it one of the five and ten-cent stores, and perfectly impossible to trace. The envelopes are the same sort. It's going to be the dickens of a job to bring the trick home to her, but it's a job that's going to be done."

"READY FOR ANYTHING?"
Her lips tightened and into her eyes came a flash that foreboded no good to Grace Draper, who, we were sure, was the sender of the anonymous clippings.

She laid out the whole series of clippings before her, comparing them, one with the other and studying them carefully, while Katherine and I watched her.

When she finally raised her eyes it was to fix them upon me with a searching, appraising look that made me feel as if my heart were slowly sinking under the weight of her gaze. I was able to keep myself steady, even to return her gaze calmly.

"Dear girl," she said at last, "while there is possibility that all this may be merely the work of a plagiarist, you, yet all the evidence points to there being a foundation of truth for these terrible assertions. We have to take her tone and manner. A fanner that a net of some kind was closing around me flashed into my brain and out again as quickly, driven forth by my trust in Lillian. I was her secretary, her friend, her confidante, her in the cause of my country. She would ask nothing of me without a reason."

"I am ready for anything you wish me to do," I said quietly.

"Thank you, I knew it. But it won't be easy."

WHAT UNKNOWN SERVICE.
There was a pause, almost imperceptible. I didn't see her look at me, but I felt her eyes. I didn't even turn my eyes in that direction, but Katherine rose from the table hastily.

"Dear me," she said with a fine affection of confidence, "it's ten minutes past the time for Mrs. Morton's egg nog. I must attend to it at once."

Lillian permitted herself a faint smile, but her eyes were stern. Her first words did not tend to allay my fears.

"If it were simply a matter of avenging my father, or even of saving him, Madge, I would not ask this service of you," she said, and looking at her closely I saw the fine lines around her mouth that always betrayed agonizing mental strain with Lillian. Then she went on:

"YES, HARRY UNDERWOOD."

"But the affair of these anonymous clippings only confirms my former opinion, that Grace Draper is one of the most cunning and relentless spies working against our government. She may or may not have had a hand in the actual death of your father, but she knows all about the plots against him, and what has happened or is about to happen to him. And if she knows these things, she is pretty nearly the center of affairs, for I need not tell you that your father was high in the secret service of either our friends or of our enemies. I am at my wit's end to find out which. My trust in the man makes me cling to the belief that he is or was a true patriot, but I must tell you that the evidence points strongly to his being as much a traitor as Grace Draper herself."

"Oh, no!" I protested in agony.

"There but one way for you to prove the truth," Lillian said, and I was conscious that she was watching me narrowly.

"Tell me how!" I cried eagerly.

"Find out what Grace Draper knows."

"But how can I do that?" I asked, although I had a glimmering of what she meant.

"There is one person who has her full confidence."

"You mean?" I asked trembling.

"Yes, Harry Underwood," returned his wife, with tortured humiliation in her eyes.

I don't think I have ever faced anything more unpleasant in my life than the vista of disagreeable possibilities which Lillian Underwood's words opened up to me. The subtle suggestion that came from her lips were so bizarre, so incongruous with the temperance of my friend that I'm afraid I stared at her open-mouthed when her meaning flashed upon me.

To Be Continued.

FREIGHT RATE INCREASE FOR FRUIT TRADE

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Twelve thousand fruit growers and shipper members of the California Citrus League, are confronted by the necessity of combating increased freight rates by reason of interpretation on the part of the Interstate Commerce Commission of the long and short haul clause act, according to statements made before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee at a hearing today. The Interstate Commerce Commission, by R. K. Loss, who was one of a number of protestants to come before the committee.

"Our members feel that the passage of the bill would result in a general increase in freight rates," Loss said, "because carriers would lose the water competitive business which now pays in part their cost of operation."

NO RULE TO FOLLOW NOW. Some rule of law governing the present application of the long and short haul clause act is necessary, the committee was told by Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clark. The commission's task at present requires it to deal with conflicting interests of communities and territories when those interests are completely irreconcilable," he said. "The present act lays down no rule of law which can be followed."

Commercial competition, not the cost of service, underlies rate making, Clark said.

MORE POWER NEEDED. Power to prescribe minimum rates and to control water, as well as rail, carriers, would assist the commission, Clark said, adding that the commission's rate policy had been based partially on the theory that healthy competition between rail and water carriers was to the best interests of the country.

Among instances cited to show rate discrimination against the area which he represented, G. B. Graft of Boise, Ida., testified before the committee, was the wool schedule. Wool is shipped west from Idaho into Portland, Ore., for compressing and back East to Chicago or Boston for $1.25 per hundred pounds while shipments directly east over the same lines, the rate from Salt Lake City to Mississippi river points is $1.62.

Commissioner Clark said the commission would not "excuse, apologize for or defend" this, but said that it might never have been taken up.

TANLAC MOVES TO NEW HOME

Magnificent New Laboratory Has a Daily Capacity of 36,000 Bottles.

What is said to be one of the largest pharmaceutical laboratories in the United States has been completed at Dayton, Ohio, for the manufacture of Tanlac, the well-known medicine, which, according to recent reports, is now having the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world.

The erection of the new plant was made necessary by the rapid growth of the business, as the older plant was found to be wholly inadequate to supply the ever-increasing demand which at the present rate of sale will amount to more than five million bottles for the present year alone.

By the erection of this plant the manufacturers of Tanlac are giving to the world just one more evidence of the remarkable growth and expansion of their business and of their absolute confidence in its future.

This announcement will be read with interest not only by the many thousands of Tanlac agents scattered throughout every state of the Union and throughout Canada, but to the millions who have used it beneficially as well.

The new building occupies 60,000 square feet of floor space. It is six stories in height, practically fireproof throughout, and is of striking architectural design. It also has private railway facilities.

This beautiful new structure now stands in striking contrast beside the older building where Tanlac was first made.

Visitors to the laboratories are strongly impressed with the extremely modern character of the equipment. Everything is provided and scientifically arranged for systematic and rapid production. The very latest machinery and devices known to invention and pharmaceutical science are here used.

The interior throughout is finished in stainless steel, and the large force of employees wear white uniforms, which they are required to change daily. The main offices on the first floor are all finished in Ceram marble and mahogany.

The entire process of manufacture is conducted under absolutely sanitary conditions. Even the bottles made expressly to contain Tanlac are washed and sterilized electrically by the ultra-violet ray process. There are then filled by automatic machinery and the finished product is therefore never touched by human hands.

Tanlac was introduced into Canada history repeated itself, and the demand which had been created in the United States was quickly duplicated in the Dominion provinces.

As a result, it was recently found necessary to establish another Tanlac laboratory at Windsor, Canada, which is on a somewhat smaller scale than the one at Dayton, but is no less modernly equipped.

These new facilities give a daily capacity of 36,000 bottles, but as Tanlac is rapidly being introduced into foreign countries it is probably only a question of a few years before even larger facilities will become necessary.

The manufacturers are necessarily working for capacity production, it is a fundamental rule of the Tanlac laboratory that the quality of the medicine shall never be sacrificed to secure quantity output.

Uniform quality is guaranteed by a series of careful inspections by expert chemists, from the time the raw materials are received in their rough state from all parts of the globe until their medicinal properties have been extracted by the approved processes. The finished medicine is then bottled, labeled and shipped out to the thousands of druggists throughout the United States and Canada, to supply the demand never before equalled for this or any other medicine.

The executive sales offices are located in Atlanta, Georgia, and occupy almost an entire floor of the Fourth National Bank Building of that city.

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company.

SHIP COMPETITION IS PROMPTLY MET

Alleged efforts on the part of British shipping interests to sign shippers in this country and corral the trans-Atlantic trade for the next year, are to be counteracted, if possible, as the result of steps taken yesterday by the United States Shipping Board. This action took the form of a telegram, a copy of which was received by Harold Ebey, San Francisco director of the operations of the shipping board. The telegram said:

"British trans-Atlantic space at $1 per 100 pounds may be limited, but shipping board agree at this figure is increasing and there is no occasion for California shippers closing with British on long time contracts to secure the benefit of $1 rate." Ebey said that even the California Packing Corporation was notified that unless it agreed to ship its goods to New York by rail and across the Atlantic in the Cunard ships, the rate of $1 could not be assured. "Unless we make a go of the direct line of steamers to Europe," said Ebey, "the Pacific Coast should understand now that the crops will be moved fast enough to be consumed before the crop of 1920 comes along. That would mean disaster for us. We shall be in a position to announce the all-water rate in two days, and this rate will be low enough to permit this port to compete with eastern ports on favorable terms."

SUNOL MAN WILL AT LEAST PAY HIS $75

Zero multiplied by a million equals what Frank Tolson, of Sunol, is petitioning the Board of Supervisors for, in the opinion of "Jimmie" Holland, clerk of the board. And if he gets it he will be stuck to pay $75. Tolson applied to the board the other day for a saloon license. According to the rules the application will have to be on the table till July 14, just two weeks after war-time prohibition comes in. The board, it is expected, will play a terrible joke on him and grant him what he is asking for, which grant will automatically "stick" him for the quarterly fee of $75. Whether Tolson believes prohibition is a dream and a delusion, or whether he is another Arkansas traveler, who has never heard of such a thing, is a quandary with "Jimmie."

GUNS FROM MARNE ST. MARY'S WILL FOR FORT SCOTT GRADUATE EIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Four heavy artillery guns, each weighing over 26,000 pounds, were landed today at Fort Scott where they will be installed permanently. They belong to the 21st Brigade, stationed at the fort, and come from France, where they served the Brigade in all the fierce battles on the Marne, at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne. They are of the 155 G. P. P. French type, and were added to the Brigade's equipment after they reached France. Two of the guns are camouflaged just as they were when they were hurled destruction at the enemy. They are similar in size to the American six-inch pieces, with barrels seventeen feet long. Four 50 horse power trucks were required to haul each gun from the foot of Powell street to the fort.

JOHNSON THANKS FRIENDS FOR ACT

Those who organized the Johnson-for-President, California, organization last week have won Senator Hiram W. Johnson's thanks. In a telegram to officers of the new organization he expresses his gratitude, though not actually declaring his intention of campaigning for the nomination. His telegram reads: "I have just received wires of Saturday's conference. Nothing has ever delighted me so much as to hear of the action of my California friends. To have those who know me and for whose good opinion I care believe me fit for the most exalted office in the gift of the American people is a reward and a tribute I shall ever value and treasure. I am deeply grateful for all who are a part of the movement in California."

AS A CRIMINAL.

Premier Clemenceau's reply to the German delegates on the subject of peace conditions, published in yesterday's TRIBUNE, is one of the most straightforward, truthful and comprehensive statements on the issues of the peace agreement and the principles that must guide their settlement that has been uttered by any Ally statesman. It was a masterpiece of truth and the most wholesome that has been delivered to Germany.

It is the final touch to all the severe indictments that have been uttered against the Huns, and more severe than any other because of its utter frankness, succinctness and authentic description.

If there is any American who does not know what the war was about and what the decision should be, he ought to read the Clemenceau reply. What, for example, could have been more timely or more deserved, than this:

"The protest of the German delegates shows that they fail to understand the position in which Germany stands today. They seem to think that Germany has only to make sacrifices in order to obtain peace, as if this were but the end of some mere struggle for territory and power."

Then the French premier tells the Germans in the next sentence that the war which began August 1, 1914, was the greatest crime against humanity and freedom of the people that any nation calling itself civilized has ever consciously committed. After describing the main details of the crime, he tells Germany that she must settle as a criminal brought to justice. For:

"The conduct of Germany is almost unexampled in human history. The terrible responsibility which lies at her doors can be seen by the fact that not less than seven million dead lie buried in Europe, while more than twenty million others carry upon them evidence of wounds and suffering because Germany saw fit to gratify her lust for tyranny by resort to war."

This is a reply to hateful German bargaining and haggling and talk of "sacrifices" that will live throughout history, and the millions now living and yet to be born will read it with complete understanding. It is a reply that interprets with unerring candor the mind of the civilized world.

DEFICIT WILL NOT BE LESS.

Congress has reduced the estimate of the appropriation Director-General Hines said would be necessary to meet the operating deficit of the federal railway administration from $1,250,000,000 to $750,000,000, a cut of half a billion dollars. But this does not mean that the deficit will be less than Mr. Hines has predicted.

The reason that led Congress to decrease the appropriation at this time was that the period for which Mr. Hines submitted his estimate—until December 31—was so long as to leave the exact needs problematical. It was decided to meet the part of the deficit actually known to exist and to provide for the balance of deficit existing at the date government control is relinquished when that is exactly known.

There is no basis for the hope that the railway administration has underestimated the requirements of aid from the federal treasury. And Congress will have to provide for meeting them. Under the procedure approved by the director-general those railroads which have not been paid in full their claims on account of guaranteed earnings, which includes all of the railroads, have been permitted to borrow from the government sums approximately equal to the amount due and unsettled. By this device the railroads will eventually owe the government at the end of regime of federal operation.

Thus the deficit will be actual and not speculative. Congress will have to make the appropriation necessary to balance the treasury account.

German peace delegates at Versailles and the Austrians at St. Germain during their sojourn in France have been taken under French escort to see the beautiful roses at Bagatelle, on "health" rides through a part of France their armies did not lay desolate. A less refined consideration for the enemy commissioners would have caused their hosts to take them to Cambrai or Rheims or Lille, where they would have seen the handiwork of their homeland. Yet some of the visiting delegates have complained against harsh treatment during the peace negotiations.

A VEXATIOUS TAX.

For some unaccountable reason the resolution introduced in Congress and favored by the House ways and means committee providing for the repeal of the so-called luxury tax has not made much progress. It was expected that by this time both chambers of Congress would have passed it—a hope firmly based on the President's recommendation and confession of the mistake in enacting the law at the last session of Congress and the definite assurances of leaders in both the House and Senate.

The luxuries tax provision of the revenue law is not yielding any considerable volume of revenue, but it is working hardship and vexation and inequalities upon every person, young and old, in the country. The school child cannot buy an ice cream cone or a glass of malted milk without paying a "tax," but the wealthy clubman can dine his friends in the most expensive hotels without being bothered with taxation. The retail merchant, large and small, is burdened with extra work and expense in accounting for revenue collected from customers that should not be compelled to pay taxes on necessities.

Whatever the excuse for holding up the repeal of the provision, it is not sound enough to stand against the crying demand that a law so vexatious to the people as to make the revenue derived from it a loss rather than profit be nullified. This measure seems to have been designed to arouse the people to criticism of the government and to opposition to the prosecution of the war. As such it was unwise legislation.

NO ANTI-AMERICANISM.

Senator King's bill introduced in the Senate last week, providing for the punishment and eradication of sedition and anarchy in the United States, proposes the most drastic law ever considered for enforcement in this country during peace. It is rather long, but it is worth while to quote one section as an indication of the temper of the whole bill:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled: That any person who shall wilfully utter, print, write, or publish any defamatory, profane, scurrilous, or abusive language about the form of government of the United States, the Constitution of the United States, or the flag of the United States, or any language intended to bring the form of government of the United States, the Constitution of the United States, or the flag of the United States, or the uniform of the navy or army of the United States into contempt, scorn, contumely, or disrepute, or shall wilfully speak, utter, print, write, or publish any language intended to incite, provoke, or encourage resistance to the United States, the Constitution of the United States, or the flag of the United States, or shall advocate any change, alteration, or modification in the form of the Government of the United States, except in the manner provided for by the terms of the Constitution of the United States, or shall advocate any change in the form of government of the United States by means of revolution or violence, or shall advocate the assassination of persons occupying public positions or offices created by the Constitution and laws of the United States, or shall advocate, incite, provoke, or encourage the destruction, burning, blowing up, or damaging of any public or private property as a part or incident of a program of force, violence, or revolution having for its purpose the overthrow of the form of government of the United States, or shall wilfully display publicly any flag or emblem, except the flag of the United States, as a symbol or emblematic of the government of the United States, or of a form of government contrary to the interests or supporters as superior or preferable to the form of government of the United States as prescribed by the Constitution of the United States, shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000 and imprisonment not exceeding ten years, and in default of payment of such fine, shall, in addition to the penalty hereinbefore provided for, be ordered deported to the country from whence he came.

Another section provides like penalties for any person who imports from any foreign country any written or printed matter calculated to incite the above-described crimes; another deals with persons who may incite mutiny or insubordination in the army and navy, and still another provides punishment for persons who interfere with the sale of United States government securities.

Briefly this proposed law would sustain the idea that the government of the Republic of the United States is to be considered by all who reside in the United States as the best government in existence, and provide punishment for all who undertake to overthrow, modify or discredit that government in any manner, except as provided by law. It is time such a law was enacted. The penalties suggested are none too severe. That clause making compulsory the deportation of an offending alien is specially desirable.

There has been a lot of talk of late about freedom of speech and freedom of the press. The loquacious pleaders of these rights, inalienable so long as they are properly exercised, are not all to be found in the ranks of the I. W. W. and Bolshevik agents. Many of them are highly placed. But it is time for active distinction between freedom of lawful conduct and license to commit crimes. Freedom of individual action and conscience does not include license to foment, promote and participate in revolution, "peaceful" or armed, against the government of the country.

The King bill has been drafted after more than six months' investigation by the Senate committee on the judiciary into alien propaganda, Bolshevism and other un-American activities. The situation revealed is serious and the country expects Congress quickly to take steps that will put an end to anti-Americanism in America.

NOTES and COMMENT

Fifty-four pages of the Congressional Record were required for the full text of the Treaty of Peace which appeared in a recent issue. Unanimous consent was first refused. Senator Borah when he asked that it be printed, but when the Idaho Senator commenced to read the document and the objecting Senators caught a glimpse of the pile of manuscript reposing on their colleagues' desks they capitulated without further argument and the regular order of business was resumed.

A contemporary publishes a diagram of a beef animal showing where the steaks and roasts come from. In these days it is not so much a case of where they come from as it is how to get them.

If California fails to secure a place on the national political map it will not be chargeable to dilution. To date she is modestly asking for the presidency and both national party conventions. Whatever happens California will at least be in the category of "those mentioned."

"Germany will not sign new treaty," the head lines read. This suggests the pertinent inquiry, who won the war? If delays continue the whole world will be speculating as to what really was the final outcome of the late unpleasantness.

A San Francisco resident was awakened at 4 o'clock Sunday morning by a resourceful burglar, who, impersonating the landlord, demanded rent. Loss of time in a quest for the credentials of the pseudo rent collector resulted in his escape and the disappearance of $150 from the treasury of the consequence-smitten tenant, who will no doubt, hereafter pay his rent promptly on the first of the month.

National Democratic Chairman Cummings, in a San Francisco interview, declared that it was the purpose of party leaders "to tell of the work of the President and of his party and to tell it all would take a decade. To quote a goodly number of American citizens are sufficiently generous to grant the party that long a respite from active participation in national affairs."

Manned by boys who saw service, and who possibly at times may have entertained misgivings as to the appreciation of the home folks, were reassured Saturday following the splendid demonstration staged by the patriotic citizens of that community. Few localities have surpassed the Encinal City in welcome to the boys home. It was an event that will long be remembered by the thousands of participants and effects great credit upon those who were responsible for its success.

Warning from the Redding Dispatch: Be mighty careful how you address the young fellow on the street corner; his overalls and a straw hat. He might be a bet.

That Los Angeles burglar who mistook a hair brush in the hand of a housewife for a revolver did not commit nearly so grievous a mistake as the policemen who act as if burglars should be treated with consideration of visiting home.

Clemenceau may have been appropriately nicknamed "The Tiger." He certainly has shown an adeptness in disposing of the scraps of paper which the German and Austrian peace delegates have submitted to him.

Germany may sign the peace treaty, but that will not be a sign that it is time for the allies to release their grip on the back of the Hun's neck.

THE COQUETTE OF THE RHINE

Wiesbaden, seat of the provisional government for the proposed Rhine republic, is described in the following bulletin from Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society:

"In her time Wiesbaden, nestled in a 'mild' hook of the Rhine valley, has played many roles. First she was a fortified outpost of the far-flung Roman empire, later a favorite home of the German emperors, and then a center of the German empire. She was a normal population less than that of Richmond, Va., the city expanded to the size of Washington, D. C., when her season was at its height in the late spring. She was a versatile hostess. Competing for the visitors whose entertainment was her principal industry, she allied those young and nimble enough to explore the nooks and crannies of the hills about her and played the 'old man's darling' to the rheumatic and the elderly who sought relief by her bathing alkaline springs."

"Her municipal dress was gay and colorful. Her broad streets radiated in a fan-like plan, sumptuous villas terminated a jeweled half-mile about her, and for plumage she had the most thickly wooded district, except that of Coblenz, in Germany. Of her environs it was said 'almost every mountain has a ruin and a legend.' Least German-like, perhaps, among German cities, visitors were reminded that they were in the land of 'vintners' and taverns by having to pay a tax for staying there after four days."

A NORTHWEST CELEBRATION

Some of our good citizens are waking up to the fact that in less than three months we shall have on our hands the most important local anniversary in the history of the state. August 24 will mark the passage of 100 years since the founding of Fort Snelling and the first occupation by the white man of the territory which now comprises Minnesota.

A fitting celebration of the founding of Fort Snelling should be a distinctive northwest affair. The entire state should be enlisted and organized in its support, for more than any other date, it marks the birth of the commonwealth. The occasion lends itself to a revival of Minnesota history in many forms and manifestations—in drama, pageantry, literature and art. It affords such an opportunity of advertising the state and, at the same time, of promoting culture and education and establishing state historical traditions as we have never before enjoyed.

Of course, it would be an undertaking too great. Are we less able than the rest to exploit our opportunities? Shall we not pass this chance to put the northwest on the map and make Fort Snelling famous throughout the United States.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

HEALTH and HAPINESS

Epilepsy Usually Incurable but Not Painful Nor Deadly

(Johns Hopkins University.)
BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.

Julius Caesar, Napoleon and other leaders were epileptics. There are numerous other instances in history. Epilepsy may assault the human creature as a passing moment of lost consciousness, similar to a faint or "fainty" feeling. It may, on the other hand, be accompanied by convulsive seizures called fits.

"Petit mal" is the name attached to epilepsy without fits. "Grand mal" is used to designate the epileptic attacks with spasms. Those liable to this disease are often born of parents who were drinkers. Accidents, injuries, lead poisoning and other kinds of poisoning in the parents or in the children themselves, arterio-sclerosis and high blood pressure have at times been productive of epilepsy.

Hippocrates, a couple of thousand years ago knew almost as much about epilepsy as scientists do today. His words are: "The hope and expectancy in epilepsy is unfavorable when the disease is present at birth—congenital—when it lasts to adult life, when it occurs in grown people without any discoverable cause."

There have been a few cures of epilepsy in women by means of radium.

Dr. W. A. Turner is convinced that the outlook for successful treatment of epilepsy which begins after 35 is good. A few cases are arrested before this age, but most of them are dependent for control upon bromides.

When the average person sees an epileptic he fears that the victim will die, and as impatient because the doctor apparently stands by idly and does nothing. Death, however, during the fit rarely occurs. There is, however, the danger that the epileptic may be stricken while swimming or bathing.

To avoid interference with education of an epileptic child the sooner the parent realizes that the malady is an incurable ailment, subject to control, the better for the child. Indulgence and petting make the child worse and weak of moral control.

Epileptics are better for work, occupation and professional attainments. Marriage, however, ought to be forbidden to victims of epilepsy. To prevent an epileptic from biting the tongue during attacks a cork or bit of ivory or rubber should be inserted between the teeth.

No treatment should be given during the spasms which passes off by itself. If unduly long, whiff of ether will relax the muscles.

Laxatives, mild exercise, training of as many muscles as possible to some precise, skilful habit, controls and guides them into habits which so counter to convulsions. Bromides in an overfed alkali form are safe and about the only helpful medicinal treatment. This must be given by a physician who can observe and care for the particular individual affected.

Epilepsy does not prevent the sufferer from becoming a great leader in arts, sciences, industries or other pursuits. While it is usually incurable, it is not a painful or deadly one.

AUTOCRAT OF THE AIR.

The miller at the old windmill of a village in Buckinghamshire one year found such difficulty in getting his sails to work through want of wind that he was continually behind with his work. The delay annoyed the farmers, who decided to call a meeting to consider the advisability of getting up another windmill. Uninvited, the miller also attended the meeting, and in the midst of the discussion rose and said: "I've want to take another windmill, do you? Well, it takes all the wind in the parish to keep my old mill a'goon, so I'll have to fish elsewhere for yer wind, that's sartin!" This novel argument gave matters the turn, and to this day the miller has had no opposition.—San Francisco Argonaut.

HEARS WOMAN TALKING WHILE BANDITS WORK

Two suspects, one a man past middle age, the other a mere boy, both believed to have posed as "customers" to obtain "the lay of the land," are sought today by the police as the bandits who yesterday held up the office of the New York Stock and Bond Company, on the fourth floor of the Bank of Italy building, bound Mrs. Ida Sanders, cashier, and escaped with $1700.

"I am almost positive there was a girl or woman implicated," said Mrs. Sanders today. "For as the bandits worked I could hear a voice and it was so gentle I could swear it was a woman's voice. I was blindfolded, but from the sound of the voice the girl was just outside the office door."

"I think that the bandits gave their look to her and she aided them in successfully working the hold-up."

Descriptions of both men have been obtained by Inspectors Thomas Gallagher and Thomas Wood, who are working on the case. Identification Expert Frank Paulsen has obtained a series of photographs of finger prints. That the robbery, bold as it was, was still the work of amateurs is the opinion of the detectives. The earliest way in which the two left finger prints in anything they touched, the detectives say, is one sign that they were inexperienced in crime.

SACK OVER WOMAN'S HEAD.
Mrs. Sanders was threatened with a gun in the office yesterday during the noon hour, bound with her own apron, gagged by a gunny sack thrown over her head. Then the two bandits ransacked the place and obtained $1700 in money, bills and stamps. The bandits, however, left a sign on the door. "Will be back at 1:30," designed to keep curious persons from the office until that time.

Mrs. Sanders, after the bandits left, went to the window and screamed. J. J. Sprague, a broker in the same building entered and released her. P. A. Dille of Santa Cruz, who was in the adjoining office, gave the police a description of two men believed to have been the robbers, when he observed entering and leaving the building.

J. Rosenberg of San Francisco is owner of the place, which is in the business of buying Liberty bonds. He was at lunch at the time. According to the police Mrs. Sanders was left alone in the office every day at noon, although there was always large sums of money and bonds in the place.

WOMAN STRUGGLES IN VAIN.
Mrs. J. Sanders, cashier of the office, who resides at 1749 California street, displayed considerable nerve, as she was confronted by the two hold-up men. "Stay there and don't move," said one of the men. Mrs. Sanders rushed for the outer office. While she was making this attempt the two men had climbed over the railing at the counter and blocked her escape.

MRS. IDA SANDERS, cashier in stock and bond house, who was bound, gagged and robbed by two men. The men escaped, taking with them $1700, but leaving finger-prints.

The cashier struggled in vain. She was quickly gagged and tied secure while standing against the door. Later she broke loose from her bonds and was able to crawl to a window in the office. She opened this wide and shouted for help.

The men handled her as gently as possible, Mrs. Sanders said. One of the bandits was not masked. He was described as being rangy and well built, though his face was wrinkled. Mrs. Sanders said she believed she could identify this man.

SAYS SHE DID HER BEST.
"The little cashier took the robbery stoically. She was slightly unnerved, but showed the effects of her ordeal no more than the average man might have. She supplied police inspectors with all the information she could bring to mind. Mrs. Sanders told the police and her employer that she had tried her best to foil the bandits' plans, but the odds were against her."

"I saw they had me in their power, as they entered the door," said Mrs. Sanders, discussing her story of the hold-up. "They were well armed and there was no one to call to for assistance. But I wasn't going to let them succeed without first giving a struggle. I ran into the next office of our suite with the intention of getting into the corridor via that route and shrieking until help would come."

FEARED THEY WOULD SHOOT.
"Before I could get outside the first office, the men had nimble leaped over the wire netting and had hold of me. I struggled, but it was no use. They soon had me gagged and bound. I used discretion in my struggles, because they were so well armed I thought they might take my life and the cash, too. They seemed desperate, although they didn't handle me very roughly. They didn't say much while they cleaned out the cash drawer and cleaned the office of other valuables. I could hear unintelligible mutterings now and then, as if the masked man was giving the unmasked man instructions."

"They were in the office at least fifteen minutes. It might have been twenty minutes. Unfortunately, no one knocked at the door, while the robbery was going on."

LOST BARONESS
HUNT CONTINUED
SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—The mystery of the lost Baroness Mackey van Ophemart, who dropped out of sight here on March 7, continues to engage the attention of a conference between police and the staff of the Consulate of the Netherlands here.

Belief that she may have gone south with a missionary and his family, whom she met on the steamship Grotius, on which she came from Batavia, has caused the search for her to be extended to Los Angeles.

It is not known whether her husband, burgomaster of Medan, Sumatra, is alive or her disappearance. She was on her way alone to visit her children left in Holland a year ago.

ACCUSE POLICE OF HUSHING UP SOLDIERS' RIOT

Investigation of the release of six men in soldiers' uniforms, who were taken into custody after a pitched battle in Idora Park last night, is under way today. The men were arrested by policemen from the North Oakland station and were taken to Fifty-fifth street and Telegraph avenue on the way to the station. Here an army lieutenant appeared, held a conversation with the police and the men were released. No report was made at the station, Captain William F. Woods not learning of the affair until informed from an outside source.

"There has apparently been an effort made to cover up this affair," said Woods. "Whether because it happened at the park or for what reason I do not know, but I do know that I won't stand for it and I propose to get to the bottom of the affair. I want to know first why the men were released after having been arrested, and why no scrap of a report was turned over to me." Woods says that disciplinary steps will be taken in the matter.

The fight started, according to witnesses, between the soldiers and one sailor. The soldiers were intoxicated, according to bystanders. After one of the men and the sailor had engaged in a fist fight the others joined in and an alarm was sent in for the police.

Six policemen entered the park, subdued the belligerents with clubs and took the men to the station. "We should have found out where men in uniform got liquor," said Woods. "And we should have had the facts in what appears to have been a small-scale riot."

Woods is taking up the matter with Chief of Police J. F. Lynch.

FOUR INJURED WHEN AUTO HIT BY STREET CAR

BERKELEY, June 18.—Four persons are suffering injuries while two others escaped unhurt shortly before 9 o'clock last night in a collision between an automobile driven by Miss Kate Steiger, 343 Twenty-third street, Oakland, and a southbound Shattuck avenue car at Shattuck avenue and Russell street. The injured are:

Leslie Hughes, 534 Hobart street, Oakland, internal injuries.
Dorothy Laird, 2812 Grove street, Oakland, contusions and bruises.

Miss Yelma Steiger, same address, contusions and shock.
In the automobile also were F. T. Steiger, brother of the young woman driver of the car, and J. L. Bigler, 5438 Shattuck avenue, Oakland, both of whom escaped unhurt.

According to Miss Steiger she was driving at a rate not exceeding 20 miles per hour and failed to hear the approaching car. The machine was dragged 175 feet before the car came to a stop. All the injured were taken to Roosevelt hospital for treatment.

Miss Steiger admitted to the police that although she had driven an automobile for a year the car which she was riding last night was comparatively new to her. She had no operator's license and may be held on a charge of violating traffic laws.

Sea Water Damage
in Flour Is Sought
SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—City Food Inspector T. P. Lydon is making an analysis of samples of 3000 barrels of flour sold by the United States Shipping board to the San Francisco Milling company to determine whether or not the flour was injured by sea water during transit to this city. It is not expected that it will prove to have been damaged. It will be serious, and the inspector says it can be purified by reblending with the hardened parts from the pure flour.

Lydon said yesterday that he had taken the samples under instructions from Dr. Jassler. He stated that the consignment in question was reported to have been damaged in transit and later sold to a milling company by the shipping board after the consignees had refused it.

Ex-Service Men Will War on Reds Legion Plans to Aid Local Police

Organization of an armed force of ex-service men to co-operate with the police in the event of any outbreaks by the I. W. W. in Oakland is now on foot, announced Fred B. Mellman, secretary of Oakland Post, American Legion, today.

Mellman said the American Legion had made a pledge to do everything in its power to stamp out attempts at organized lawlessness in this city.

The special soldiers' force is being organized in consequence of the many reported I. W. W. and Bolshevik uprisings that are rumored to take place in Oakland soon.

Vigorous action was taken at last night's meeting of the American Legion in this city. A resolution condemning the source of the anonymous threat received by the Legion was adopted.

CO-OPERATION PLEDGED.
The resolution pledges the co-operation of the American Legion with the mayor and chief of police "to suppress riot and for the maintenance of law and order wherever called upon by the proper authorities."

The practice of utilizing men in uniform as peddlers and sales agents is condemned in another resolution adopted.

"The American Legion in Oakland is determined to see that no lawless element gets control of this city," said Secretary Mellman, today in discussing the organization's preparations.

"There is no one so anxious to see these rumored I. W. W. disturbances promptly squelched as the members of this patriotic guard force. We feel it is just as much our part to perform this duty as it was for us to defend our flag in the trenches of France. The I. W. W. will do nothing in Oakland, if the American Legion can prevent it."

AID IS WELCOMED.
Chief of Police Lynch and Mayor Davis have both welcomed the voluntary aid offered by the American Legion.

More than 200 ex-service men are affiliated with the American Legion in Oakland. Every man at the meeting of the legion was eager to do his part in the projected special guard force. When organization is fully perfected, the body will be placed under the jurisdiction of the chief of police.

Further preparations will be made at the next meeting, which will be held at the city hall on July 1. The semi-annual election of officers will also take place.

THIEF SHOT BY GUN TRAP IN CLOSET

A sawed-off shotgun, hidden in a wash closet and connected by strings to the factory door, is the burglar alarm which last night wounded a thief now being sought by the police.

A trail of blood today from the brass foundry at 424 Third street, where the "man trap" is located, led the clew to the thief, who was evidently struck by several shots from the abbreviated firearm.

A watch is being kept on hospitals and physicians' offices by the police of both sides of the bay.

John O. Navone, manager of the brass factory, set the gun trap some weeks ago, after the place had been looted of brass and tools half a dozen times. The first man caught was an employee of the place who had been in the custom of stealing materials at night. So pleased was Navone with the success of his trap, that he set it again.

When Navone came to the factory today he found the gun discharged and spots of blood leading from a window and to the sidewalk. Shot had lodged in walls about the place.

BASEBALL
BOSSIP

One peek at the box score of yesterday's game between the Bees and Angels shows you just how much the Salt Lake boys are back in that "rarified" atmosphere. Unable to hit a homer, the Bees were able to knock the boards off the fence in their home lot yesterday and won 18 to 17. There must be something in that celebrated "rarified" atmosphere.

--- --

Too bad the schedule makers were not able to bill the Bees to play all their games at home. Probably every player on the club would hit for a .500 average if the Bees were at home. Fair air sure does make a difference in the batting averages.

But what is the use of finding fault?

The Angels beat the league leading Bees, but maybe the Angels won't take many beatings from the Bees, as the Semphas maintain they out-hit the Bees, although beaten.

The Angels used pitchers Brown, Aldridge, Crandall and Schultz, the Bees getting 19 hits in all. The Bees used Markle, Dale and Gould and they were found for 21 hits.

The Bees started all four catchers in.

the eighth inning to take an 18 to 15 lead. The Angels came back with a rally in the ninth but fell one short of tying the score.

Every player on the Los Angeles club, with the exception of the pitchers and Ray Bates, who served as a pinch-hitter, got one or more hits.

Fourthner set the season's record for hits in one game when he hit three. He also scored four runs in five times at bat.

Tub Spencer hit a homer, triple, single and scored three runs for the Bees. Smith was the only one of the Bees with the exception of Markle, Mullinn and Gould who were not charged with any time at bat.

Anyway, it was a great day for some fellow's batting averages and you can't make that Salt Lake air behave. Some records when pitching at Salt Lake. The Sox manager shows that Clark Brown was responsible for most of the Sox' runs, which is more than one would expect what he was responsible for in the first eight games that he pitched for the Angels.

The Seals, Corcoran, Purple Sox and Tigers all enjoyed a day of rest, hiding in tourist cars or waiting for the other fellows to arrive. They will all don their uniforms today.

Women Golfers Will Be Busy At Del Monte

Fair Sex Not to Be Overlooked When Big Tourney Comes

DEL MONTE, June 17.—The prominent part that women are taking in the royal and ancient pastime is indicated by the program prepared for the state championships on the Del Monte links on August 30 to September 9. The fair devotees of the sport have been restricted in their play in the past to make way for the men. This year, however, the women will be given a tournament by competing for the Del Monte women's championship on the first two days. It will consist of a match play with 18 holes each day. On Friday, September 5, to Tuesday, September 9, they will contest the state championship. On admission day in the afternoon the ladies will again be out on the links in the mixed tourneys.

The schedule gives the women plenty of opportunity to show their skill and the California Women's Association is looking forward to attracting a big entry. It is the first time in several years that the women of California have held a state title event and naturally interest will be worked up to the hilt.

The next golfing event at Del Monte will be the July 4 tournament, which will last three days. Prospects are that it will consist of one of the best golfing fields of the year, as quite a number of the tournament players have signified their intention of participating in the event.

That Del Monte will be busy with sports is indicated by the program arranged by Sports Manager Fred A. Turner. The football season will be held on June 27, 28 and 29 and a polo tournament will hold sway on the golf course.

There will be an invitational tennis tournament on July 13, and later in the month the girls of California will get together in a banner swimming meet.

PERCY AND FERDIE---In Trouble Is Right

DEMPSEY WILL WEIGH MORE THAN 200 POUNDS WHEN HE MEETS MR. WILLARD

By ED. SMITH

TOLEDO, O., June 18.—The thing is all settled as far as Jack Dempsey is concerned. He's the winner and an easy one at that, the battle so slightly concerning him that already he is making a number of plans for the future, always with "Jack Dempsey, champion of the world," the big slogan on his banner.

He told me yesterday in a little chat I had with him walking from the Overland Club out to the beach of the bay shore on the Maumee.

"What's your feeling about this battle?" I asked him. "Just what do you mean by that?" he asked. "Do you mean do I feel that I will win it? Why, that's the biggest cinch I ever saw in my life, and there never was a bigger one."

"Here's exactly how I feel and I want you to let my Chicago pals know just what my feelings are in the matter. Willard never has met a fellow like me, a tough fellow, don't you understand, who doesn't exactly box by the book but who keeps on going all of the time."

WILLARD IS SLOW MOVING FELLOW.
"Willard is a slow moving fellow himself. He never possessed a great deal of speed and is slow to take advantage of a situation. I've learned the game on a different level. They've drilled me for speed and punching force and the combination is going to be a winner in this fight."

Just before this conversation the challenger had hopped on the scales in the camp to show the big crowd of newspaper men exactly what he weighed. To the astonishment of all Jack weighed exactly 204 pounds. Several times he stepped off and then on again and each time there was a fresh gasp from the spectators. Not one out of ten of the visitors could believe what they saw. Several got on the platform and tested the scales and then knew that the young man actually weighed over the 200 mark.

EXPECTS TO WEIGH 215 IN SHORT TIME.
"I've been hopping up and up for some time and expect after I am champion for a year or so that I will be up around 215," he told me. "I weighed 195 the other day and have taken on this in the meantime. You see, I have a pretty big frame and can carry this added weight without a bit of inconvenience because it will be a natural distribution all over."

"Willard has been thinking, as have his friends, that he is going up against a little fellow. I'm nothing like that and I hope he has a bad him that he will have only about 150 pounds and maybe less the advantage in weight."

"The distance of the fight? Please don't ask me anything like that, because I'm going to win as quickly as I can and I feel that I may catch this big fellow in the first round. That's not at all improbable. I did it to Fred Fulton and he's even better than Willard can possibly be."

There was a ring of sincerity to all that the challenger said and he was so unconcerned about the whole business that his words could not but have great impression upon those who heard them.

Jack Kearns, manager of the young fighter, came up at that time and watched his protégé jump out through the breakers and get into deep water. He had something to say to all of this.

DEMPSEY STRONGEST MAN IN BUSINESS.
"It's my opinion that Dempsey is the strongest man in the business today from the waist up and that he will give Willard the surprise of his life the first time they clinch, if deep water. He had something to say to all of this."

BOXING NOTES

Writing from Fresno, Johnny Conde says: "I have been matched to box the main event here, July 3, and am training hard. No more fooling for little Johnny. I want to get another fight with Jack Davis and promise to reverse the last result. The country life is the life for me and I am going to behave." Stay with it, Johnny.

Allie Nack, who meets Jimmy Duffy at the Auditorium tonight, holds two newspaper decisions over Johnny Dundee. Allie also boxed Phil Bloom, Leo Johnson, Phil Moore, Willie Jackson and other good ones.

Frank Tiber has added Charlie Rice to his stable, making the number of stalls in Frank's barn 1432.

MURAD

THE TURKISH CIGARETTE

There is always a reason why!

MURADS are made of 100% pure Turkish tobacco—the world's most famous tobacco for cigarettes—grown about the Black Sea, in the Orient.

MURADS are also the world's largest selling high-grade Turkish cigarette—and their greatest increase in sales in any year was in 1918.

Now don't you agree, there is always a reason?

It is true that "ordinary" cigarettes cost a trifle less.

Judge for yourself—!

PEACH CROP OF COUNTRY FIFTY PER CENT HIGHER

Indications point to a commercial peach production in the United States amounting to a yield of 10,000,000 bushels, according to figures given out by the bureau of crop estimates. This forecast is based on the strictly commercial production of the country as of June 1. The crop in the west gives the best promise. The report states that the peach crop has increased 50 per cent, notably in the Western and Northern States, where the crop will not reach earlier expectations. This has been due to very severe damage caused by curculionid and brown rot. The curculionid has decreased the crop in the Northern Ohio peach belt nearly 50 per cent. New York, although suffering to a less degree, has lost 25 per cent of its crop. The month ago, Western Maryland and other parts of the Middle Atlantic States also have severe infection of brown rot and curculionid. The Southern crop indicates no notable change. The Georgia estimate increasing a few hundred carloads. The figures of the report is the very large crop in the far West, which is likely to exceed that of former years.

Oust Burleson Is Labor Demand Conservatives Control Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 18.—Radicals in the American Federation of Labor convention here appear to be armed with arguments, while the conservatives are armed with votes. Therefore, although the radical element today planned an assault on the leadership of President Samuel Gompers, it was predicted they would have to take it out in talk. No real attempt is expected to be made to defeat Gompers for re-election when the time comes to vote, but the radicals assert their arguments will tend to restrict the influence of Gompers and conservatives.

Although the convention yesterday defeated the resolution calling for a strike in behalf of Tom Mooney, under sentence of life imprisonment for the San Francisco bomb outrage in 1916, the International Workers' Defense league announced today it will go through with its strike program. J. Peurlebaum, Detroit, predicted 25,000 would strike there July 4. James Duncan, Seattle, asserted 60,000 would quit in Seattle. W. B. Patterson of the carpenters million organized wage earners and firm in the belief it reflects the sentiment of the American people, requests President Wilson immediately to remove Postmaster General Burleson.

VOTE DOWN "MAY DAY" PLAN.
The hottest fight this morning centered on a resolution by Marion Oates to establish May 1 as the day for the general termination of contracts. The conservatives, sensing an attempt by the radicals to create "May day," defeated the resolution.

The convention voted to appoint a committee to study the "depreciating value of the dollar" and make recommendations to Congress.

The federation adopted a resolution asking the House committee on merchant marine and fisheries to investigate alleged failure by Secretary of Commerce Redfield to enforce the seamen's act provisions aimed against ill-treatment among crews of ocean-going vessels leaving American ports.

OPPOSE MOONEY STRIKE.
Following a sharp debate, during which several of the delegates at most came to blows, delegates adopted a resolution refusing to endorse the general strike called for July 4 as a protest against the imprisonment of Thomas Mooney and consulting the Mooney defense committee for its alleged efforts to disrupt the American Federation of Labor.

Refusal to endorse the proposed strike was based on the assertion of labor leaders that such action would prove prejudicial to Mooney's interests.

Charges were made that the Mooney defense committee had used funds contributed by organized labor for the purpose of attacking the American Federation of Labor and bringing about its destruction.

The resolution, however, directed the executive council of the American Federation of Labor to "exert every effort to bring about a trial for Mooney through recognized processes."

Delegates, said by veteran labor leaders to have been the most bitter they ever heard, followed rejection by the convention over the strenuous protest of the radical group of a proposal to change American Labor day from the first Monday in September to May as a bond of affection to unite all the world labor into a "universal brotherhood."

RECOGNITION OF IRELAND.
A resolution urging Congress to recognize the Irish republic and recommending that representatives of the Irish republic be given a hearing at the Paris peace conference was adopted. The memorial placed American organized labor as being in favor of self-determination for Ireland.

The resolution was finally adopted after a long debate, during which several of the delegates at most came to blows, delegates adopted a resolution refusing to endorse the general strike called for July 4 as a protest against the imprisonment of Thomas Mooney and consulting the Mooney defense committee for its alleged efforts to disrupt the American Federation of Labor. The principal witness for the government will probably be Holmquist, who is now in this city and was not joined with the others in the indictment. The specific amount alleged to have been forwarded "to the aid of enemy aliens" totaled nearly $20,000, the period ranging according to the indictment from March 22, 1918, to March 12, 1919, the largest remittance being payment by Westphal to Swanberg on October 4, 1918, $7317.32.

The case, which involves a long list of remittances from San Francisco to Sweden, and from Sweden to Germany, has been under investigation for months, according to U. S. Attorney Annette Adams. Bail was fixed at $5000 for each defendant when the warrants were turned over to Federal Marshal J. B. Holohan. Under war time regulations the defendants are liable to ten years' imprisonment.

The peculiar feature in the case is that a number of the Russ heirs in Germany, to whom the three are accused of sending their shares of the Russ estate income, are American citizens. Under the "trading with the enemy" act, however, this makes no difference, the act of sending American money into a foreign country for anyone being considered illegal.

LAND PURCHASE LIMITED.
MEXICO CITY, June 18.—Under the constitution only 964 square kilometers of the 155,000 in Lower California can be owned directly by foreigners, according to a statement by the department of commerce and industry.

3 INDICTED ON ENEMY CHARGE OUT ON BONDS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Charles O. Swanberg, millionaire president of the Merchandise and Cold Storage company; Henry W. Westphal, vice-president of the same company, and Robert R. Russ, secretary-treasurer of the Russ estate, were indicted by the federal grand jury yesterday for violating the "trading with the enemy" act, appearing before U. S. Commissioner Thomas E. Hayden today and save bonds in the sum of $5000 each. They will be arraigned before Federal Judge Farrington June 21.

The trio are charged in the indictment, and according to U. S. Attorney Annette Adams, in sending through Swanberg's son-in-law, O. Holmquist, Searings, Sweden, money to heirs of the Russ estate and others in Germany.

CHARGE IS SPECIFIED.
The principal witness for the government will probably be Holmquist, who is now in this city and was not joined with the others in the indictment. The specific amount alleged to have been forwarded "to the aid of enemy aliens" totaled nearly $20,000, the period ranging according to the indictment from March 22, 1918, to March 12, 1919, the largest remittance being payment by Westphal to Swanberg on October 4, 1918, $7317.32.

The case, which involves a long list of remittances from San Francisco to Sweden, and from Sweden to Germany, has been under investigation for months, according to U. S. Attorney Annette Adams. Bail was fixed at $5000 for each defendant when the warrants were turned over to Federal Marshal J. B. Holohan. Under war time regulations the defendants are liable to ten years' imprisonment.

Under the "trading with the enemy" act, however, this makes no difference, the act of sending American money into a foreign country for anyone being considered illegal.

HEIRS SEND MONEY, CHARGE.
According to the charge of the federal officers Russ, through intermediaries in Sweden, succeeded in getting $10,000 to heirs of the estate living in Germany. The plan was as follows, according to Mrs. Adams:

Swanberg has a son-in-law, Oscar Holmquist, owner of a large dairy business at Searings, Sweden. Swanberg owns an interest in this, and Holmquist accounts to him regularly. Under the arrangement, the federal officials say, Holmquist began to send money into Germany, deducting it from his remittances to Swanberg, who was in turn reimbursed by Russ. Westphal is said to be the man who brought the two together.

To institute the drive for the sale of the 1919 issue of War Savings stamps in Oakland, a mass meeting of all who are willing to aid in the campaign for the sale of the stamps has been called for tomorrow afternoon in the council chamber in the city hall. W. C. Chapman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will act as chairman at the meeting.

Speakers will explain the purpose of the 1919 stamp issue and plans for the sale in Oakland will be made. Among the speakers will be George F. Sheldon, county director of the War Savings Stamp organization; Mayor John L. Davis, Fred M. Hunter, independent of schools; Frederick Whitton, director Northern California War Savings sales; Joseph J. Rosborough, postmaster; S. F. COLLEGES FOR SOLDIERS.
Funds raised by the 1919 issue of war savings stamps will be largely devoted to the support of the United States army's "universities" in France. This educational institution which has been started for the soldiers now sta-

MISS POLLOK SENTENCED TO PAY $100 FINE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Theodore Pollok, formerly of Piedmont, and an official of the International Workers' Defense League, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 by Federal Judge Frank H. Tarkin today when Miss Pollok appeared for judgment following her conviction with the others tried in the Sacramento L. V. W. trial.

Albert L. Fox and Basl Saffores, I. W. W. members, and who with Miss Pollok were the only ones represented by counsel at Sacramento, were sentenced to two-month terms in the county jail.

When the trio appeared for sentence this morning, a plea for clemency was made by Attorney Nathan Coghlan, former general counsel for the California chapter of the I. W. W.'s.

The DUO ART The Last Word in Pianos

The DUO ART is a new type of pianoforte. It answers to the touch of the pianist's fingers upon its keyboard. In tone and in form it is a piano of the highest modern development.

But, unlike the piano, the Duo Art is not a passive instrument whose voice is lifted only at command of the gifted artist's agile hands. The sensitive Duo Art action, guided by Duo Art Records of the finest interpretations by the world's greatest pianists, reproduces these performances with such perfect mimicry as almost to outlive the artist's recitals in the concert halls. The Duo Art thus immortalizes the fine art of pianism—makes its rarest and highest examples available in the home.

Not only is the Duo Art a Reproducing instrument, but it is an instrument for self expression—for with the thousands of Player Rolls one may sit and play anything in the realm of music according to his or her own desire and interpretation.

We cordially invite you to come in and hear this marvelous Player, which is truly the last word in Pianos.
